WELCOME MESSAGE

Esteemed Delegation

Organ transplantation represents one of the greatest achievements of modern medicine — yet in Malaysia, the gap between patients in need and organs available remains profound. For many, transplantation is not simply a treatment option but the only path to survival, dignity, and restored quality of life. Bridging this gap demands national resolve, sustained commitment, and collaboration across all sectors of healthcare and society.

The 29th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Malaysian Society of Transplantation (ASM MST 2026), themed “Transplantation in Malaysia: Answering the Unmet Need,” is conceived as a strategic platform to confront these challenges and chart a path forward. The meeting will convene leaders in clinical care, research, health administration, and policy to examine emerging science, system barriers, ethical imperatives, and practical solutions required to advance transplantation services in Malaysia.

Beyond scientific exchange, this gathering reflects a shared commitment to strengthen national capacity, promote equitable access to life-saving therapy, and ensure that advances in transplantation translate into meaningful outcomes for patients and families.

Since its establishment in 1994, the Malaysian Society of Transplantation has served as the national voice for transplant professionals, championing excellence, ethical practice, and the sustainable development of organ and tissue transplantation in Malaysia.

We invite you to join us in this important endeavour to transform the transplantation landscape and to help secure a future in which no patient is denied the chance of life because of limited access to transplant care.

Together, we can answer the unmet need.

Warm Heart

Dear Delegation

A very warm welcome to respected colleagues and friends to the 29th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Malaysian Society of Transplantation 2026 in Bangsar Connexium Conference & Event Centre.

Together with my co-chairperson, Dr Leong, and the rest of the MST committee, we are honored to be present amongst you during this important meeting. For nearly 3 decades, this gathering has been the beacon of progress in transplantation medicine, uniting us to confront one of healthcare's greatest challenges: bridging the gap between lives waiting and lives saved. Our theme this year "Transplantation in Malaysia: Answering the Unmet Need" captures this urgency perfectly. With rising demands from chronic diseases like end stage heart, lung, liver, kidney disease and beyond, we face stark realities: long waiting lists, organ shortages and the need for innovative solutions tailored to our Malaysian context. Importantly, we also celebrate the vital contributions of other specialties – cornea and tissue banking restoring sight and healing wounds; bone grafting rebuilding lives; immunology advancing tolerance and reducing rejection; and our heroic donation and procurement teams whose tireless efforts turn tragedy into hope. For the first time, we're introducing a dedicated session on paediatric heart and lung transplantation, addressing a critical unmet need for our youngest patients and paving the way for this service to be introduced in Malaysia. These discussions aren't just academic – they're blueprints for action, blending global insights with local impact.

A special thank you to our international speakers for contributing their expert insights to all of us. To our sponsors, local organizing committee and volunteers – your support makes this possible. And to every delegate, your passion fuels our mission.

Let us embrace this meeting as a call to collaborate, innovate and serve across specialties. Together, we'll answer the unmet need, one transplant at a time.

Thank you once again and let's make this 29th meeting an unforgettable one.

Dr Koh Hui Beng
Organizing Chairperson
